TO MAKE MORE STEEL

It is good news that the steel industry plans to expand its capacity by nearly 10 per cent during the next two years. With armament spending being stepped up, it is obvious that the demand for steel will increase..

On the basis of data collected by the American Iron and Steel Institute, Secretary of Commerce Sawyer estimates practice at enjoying fun with a that annual capacity should reach 109,963,000 tons by December 31, 1952. On July 1 this year annual capacity was rated at 100,563,000 tons, an all-time high.

The greatest output recorded during World War II—the each other in blissful affection and year was 1944—was 16,000,000 tons less than the expected 1952 total. The most steel ever used for military purposes in to a store in gets into everything a single war year—also 1944—was 53,000,000 tons, or less than half of the prospective capacity to be reached in 1952.

The statistics cited by Secretary Sawyer also reflect the fact that the industry has been expanding its capacity since World War II ended. That is the best reason for feeling confident that the plants now projected will materialize.

Taking Look At Spain By PAUL GALLICO

BARCELONA, SPAIN, Oct. 7.—Well, you know, I had never been to Spain, what with all this kicking around Europe, though I had got a taste of it through hanging out in Mexico and travelling around South America, but I said to myself, here I am right on the border of Spain in the Pyrenees; maybe I ought to go in and have a look and then write a piece and tell my clients how it is to travel in Spain these days.

I said to myself further, it is about a three-to-one shot that it is no good, rating off what it is to travel in these South American countries-I mean the pushing around you get from customs, immigration and police and all that, but I think that this is a bet I can maybe take and win because, as this is being written it seems certain we will give Spain some 62,500,000 American boffos. Perhaps this will make the Spanish officials very loving and kind to gringos and travelling could be a pleasure in their beautiful land.

Deadly Weapon"

The first thing that happens is that I am discovered to have a deadly weapon in the trunk of my car when we cross the Spanish border. This was nothing less than a standard size typewriter that I use in the conduct of my literary business, not being one who enjoys chasing a portable all over a table top during the composition of deathless prose You would have thought I was trying to smuggle in the atom bomb. They kept us at that border customs station in the frying heat for three hours while they weighed that typewriter, wrote down its numbers, hefted it and examined it for seditious thoughts. I said I was an American tourist who wanted to see Spain and since we undoubtedly will give them 62,500,000 clams, why didn't they leave us alone and let us get on with our touring. No capeesh!

They said finally I could take in the typewriter if I would pay 25 smackers in pesetas as a deposit. I said I would if I could get it back in American smackers, and not Spanish gazinkas, when I left the country. They said that would be just fine. So what happened?

When I came to depart they handed me pesetas when I produced the typewriter. When I asked for my American smackers that I paid over, they said the guy at the border had made some mistake in spelling, or had put down the time instead of the date, and if I wanted to straighten it out I could go back over 350 miles and crawl over their Pyrenees again. They told me to go jump in the agua and that it wasn't their headache

Kept My $25, Gave Me Pesetas

So they kept my $25, and gave me pesetas. The peseta, when you get outside of Spain is just some very dirty paper that nobody wants, and won't exchange for anything else. So as of today they will have $62,500,025. But they let me keep the typewriter. That was the only serious mistake they made.

What am I saying? They weren't through with us yet. The guy at the border bank who cashed my express cheques for $50 gave me a fast count of $20 bucks worth of those gazinkas. When I went to the same bank here and asked please could I have the dough out of which I was gypped they said, Ha, Ha, what a dope that guy at the border was, not knowing about the new rate for the gazinka. Now I would have to drive all the way back there to get my dough.

So now I am not yet in the country three hours, and the take in U. S. Dollars will be $62,500,045, the last-named 45 belonging to me. And just as we drive away from the customs station, the jefe hands me a printed card which reads, "THE SPANISH STATE TOURIST DE-PARTMENT Welcomes You In Spain."

Get Another Pushing Around

But that is just nothing to the pushing around and general harassment they give you when you try to get out of their country. They frisk your baggage, frisk your pockets, make you stand in line for hours, shou at you and regard you with distaste and suspicion. They treat you not like human beings, but like cattle.

So I take the three-to-one bet that I will enjoy travel in beautiful Spain, and I lose. They don't yet know anything about catering to tourists and above all not to American tourists. The petty official is king and he is a very savage and ignorant guy and wants you to know who is boss and that you ain't. So all the nice things about Spain are spoiled for the Americano by the red tape, and the pusharound and the old vacuum pump they put on your supply of Dolares. It's the only country in the world that makes you pay for the customs frisk they give your baggage on the way out. So they gypped me out of my $45. Brother, they never should have left me that old mill.

The Thirteenth Annual Series

Courtship, Marriage and Home Life 7:45 P. M.

October 22 The dream of a happy marriage October 29 The problem of the cheating husband November 12 After the children leave home

> In spite of the efforts of many people and many agencies working for the improvement of the American home, broken homes and broken lives continue to abound. We believe the remedy is to be found in the moral and spiritual life of the people. This series is an attempt to help both married people and youth to find the Christian solution to the complex problems of social and home life. If you do not attend any church on Sunday evening, we invite you to join in this

Bonus Pattern Set By Court Funds To Be Set

Aside For Child

Pattern for handling state bonus cases for children, whose fathers Etna street. were killed while in the service and mothers have remarried, was set by the Lawrence county court Friday afternoon.

Wilbur C. Bodds, R. D. G. Bodds, R. D. G. South Crawford William Palm, rear 111-Glenn avenue, Ellwood City; Betty Lois Bouck, 106 South Crawford

Eight such cases were heard before Judge W. Walter Braham Friday. In each case, with one exception, the money was to be put into a savings account for the thild subject to withdrawal by child, subject to withdrawal by $1.

In the one case that differed, $140 of the amount was allowed to be applied toward having medical care for two of the children.

These were the first such cases in the county. There are many others pending and it will not be necessary to have them settled in court, unless there is some special reason that the money should not be put in the bank for the child.

Judge Braham instructed A. Lewis Conn, director Department of Veterans Affairs of Lawrence County, to prepare an order to care for these ordinary cases.

Roy Eagan and Wife, Sti Watt, Ellwood City, $1.

Mike Barbish and wife to Edward B. Feil and wife, Union twp., $1.

Under the state bonus provisions, the wife of a man that died while in the service is not entitled to the bonus if she has remarried.

CRITICS of THE MOTOR TRUCKS REMIND ONE of KING CANUTE

You recall the story of old King Canute.
Got himself a morris chair—or was it a chaise lounge—down at the beach and announced to the folks he was going to turn back

All the old boy got was wet feet and maybe a slight cold. He couldn't stop the progress of the tide.

Critics of the motor truck remind one of old King Canute. They can't stop progress of course and the motor truck means progress in transportation.

We're not talking of honest criticism of the faults of a growing industry, fact is we appreciate honest, constructive criticism.

But dig into the background of the carping of the fellow who condemns motor trucks on the highways. Perhaps he is interested in some other form of transportation.

Knowing that motor trucks mean progress he becomes a modern King Canute. Without a beard. Or did King Canute have a beard?

Over 12,000 Persons Watch New Castle Play Great Ball

A smooth clicking, hard hitting New Castle high school football team, mowed down previously undefeated McKeesport 20-0 Friday night at Taggart Stadium before over 12,000 persons.

The visiting Tigers never knew what hit them as the Red Hurricanes started rolling midway in the first period, never to be stopped The New Castle forward wall opened nice holes for the Cane ball carriers and slapped down all McKeesport scoring thrusts.

Entire Cane Team Superb

It would be impossible to pick out one or two stars in the New Castle victory, since the entire team played great ball. Bucky Tate, however, showed why he was considered the best linemen in Western Pennsylvania last year as he played a great game.

John Sansone also played his best game of the season at quarterback. He mixed the plays up well, blocked well, punted well, and was a constant headache to McKeesport on pass defense as he hauled in three Tiger passes.

DeFalco Recovers Fumble

The Red Hurricane started their initial touchdown drive midway in the first quarter when Dante De-Falco recovered a McKeesport fumble on the New Castle 47yard line.

Guy Amodie made nine yard around left end on a pitch out from Sansone. Ray Latsko made a first down on the McKeesport 38 with six yards around the other

How About Some Fall Duds For That Car of Yours?

We don't mean longies, or woolen vests, or raccoon coats.

We do mean some going over for the weather ahead. Fall is in the air, leaves float along like a million miniature airplanes, and now and then a touch of autumn rain.

Your car responds to temperatures like you do. That heavy summer driving may have thinned the grease, gummed up some of the working parts and a fall cleanup is in order.

Now is a good time to get it done and our garage is the place to do it.

Miller Vs. Ford

Bob Miller, slim, young right-hander, was the probable answer to the first question, but if any-body has the answer to the second, please see Philadelphia Manager Eddie Sawyer in the dugout. He's tried everything he knows. In fact, he may even go with Bubba Church or Jim Konstanty who lost the

In further prospect, and dismal prospect it was, the Phils today had to face youthful Eddie Ford, the terrific rockie strongarm who won nine, lost one with the Yanks dur-

HARRISBURG, Oct. 7 .- (INS)-The Penn Transit Co., of McKeesport, Friday pressed the Public Utility Commission anew for approval of a $28,000 rate increase effective November 5 effective on 30 days notice.

The PUC rejected a similar pro-posal September 26 because the firm wanted to boost rates on one day's notice and had failed to submit any data to support its claim that operating losses will amount to $50,000 a year under the existing tariff due to a new union contract with workers.

Suppose they came to YOUR II VIIL UOOF!

You'd ask them in . . . of course even though they filled your living room to overflowing. And then, one by one, they would tell you their stories.

One would tell you about the fight his organization is waging against disease and crippling illness . . . Another would touch your heart with the story of a homeless child or a lonely old man . . . A third would tell you how youth services curb juvenile delinquency in your town . . . Each one would separately ask your help.

And you'd want to help every one! But you'd wonder . . . "How much should I give to this? ... How much to that?" And that is exactly why, in our community, we have a United Red Feather campaign. The needs of each service have been studied and considered by a group of our leading citizens.

To save YOUR time, only one volunteer solicitor will call on you. When that call comes, open your heart and your pocketbook. Remember that you are giving for ALL Red Feather services. So give enough for ALL. And give enough for a FULL YEAR. Thanks!
